RALLY KAZAKHSTAN 2022 CANCELLED

The current international situation has forced the organizer of the Rally Kazakhstan, round three of the FIA & FIM World Rally-Raid Championship (W2RC), to cancel its 2022 edition, which was due to take place from 26 to 30 April. As a result, the next W2RC round will take place from 6 to 12 June at the Andalucia Rally in Spain, and will be followed by Morocco's Rallye du Maroc from 6 to 12 October 2022. In view of this situation, all stakeholders of the discipline – the FIA, FIM, the teams and W2RC promoter A.S.O. – are now jointly considering a number of possible replacements to host a fifth and final round, to be held at the end of the season.

The Rally Kazakhstan will be fully restored to the 2023 calendar*.
